Christmas Plate Series 2009

Christmas at Amagertorv

The 2009 Christmas series, "Christmas at Amagertorv", shows one of the best preserved and oldest houses in inner Copenhagen. The location is Amagertorv (Amager Square), and it is in this beautiful setting that Royal Copenhagen has run its shop since 1884. The building was erected in 1616 for the mayor. On this year's plate, in front of the beautiful snow-clad building you see Christmas shoppers, with packages in hand, trying to wind up their Christmas shopping. Also visible is the Stork fountain, which has been part of the beautiful setting at Amagertorv since 1894 and has made the square a favorite spot for locals and tourists alike.

8" authentic Danish Blue Porcelain Plates

Fine porcelain plates showing nearly all dog breeds of the world; now over 200 breeds and over 350 different plates. The motifs are painted by some of the best European artists who specialize in the demanding technique needed to make these plates to perfection. Also, the designs on these plates have been approved by International Dog Show judges. The plates are all made in the well known Danish Blue Under-glaze. Visit our website at saxkjaers.com for more information on other Dog breeds as well as Cat plates
